Drivers Awarded For Safety

Nine Aerospace Center employees were presented cash awards last month for accumulated years of safe driving while performing their jobs.

Earning the Safe Driver Award in the Directorate of Logistics were the following:

--Leroy N. Cooney, tractor-trailer operator, for 187,000 miles of driving during the past 12 years without an accident or moving violation.

--Nathaniel Henley, motor vehicle operator, for 180,000 miles of driving during the past 11 years without an accident or moving violation.

--Winford Parker, uniformed staff car driver, for 295,000 miles of driving during the past 20 years without an accident or moving violation.

--Albert Prater Jr., material destruction equipment operator, for safe operation of a variety of material handling equipment during the past five years.

--James H. Scates, material destruction equipment operator, for safe operation of a variety of material handling equipment during the past 11 years.

--Calvin Weaver Jr., motor vehicle operator, for 90,000 miles of safe driving during the past 16 years without an accident or moving violation.

J.C. Wright, tractor-trailer and motor vehicle operator, for 147,000 miles of driving during the past 12 years without an accident or moving violation.

--Alvin L. Wilson, shuttle bus driver, for 88,000 miles of driving during the past seven years without an accident or moving violation.

Earning the Safe Driver Award in the Graphic Arts Department was Charles L. Roberts. Roberts has operated a forklift in and

Retiree Rahall Nominated By Center for Erskine Award

Former Center Deputy Director for Programs, Production and Operations, Philip Rahall, has been nominated by the Aerospace Center for the DMA Robert Erskine Award for Exceptional Achievement.

The Erskine Award was established by DMA Director MG Richard M. Wells, USA, this year as part of the decennial observance. The award will be presented to up to three DMA employees on special occasions. All DMA employees, both civilian and military, who are on active duty or who have retired, are eligible for this award. The award will go to the person or persons who have been judged as preeminent in their contributions to the advancement of mapping, charting and geodesy or other achievements in any other field of endeavor which contributed significantly to the accomplishment of major DMA objectives.

Nominees for the award were submitted by the headquarters and components with final selection to be announced by the headquarters and presentation of the award made by the headquarters.

1972 to his retirement in July 1979. "His actions contributed significantly to the timely implementation of automated production processes", read the nomination, "and to satisfaction of the unique digital data requirements supporting advanced aerospace weapon systems of the Army, Navy and Air Force. These efforts resulted in conservation of vital mapping, charting, and geodesy resources and greatly enhanced DMA's capability for effective mapping and charting of the world's terrain."

Health Benefits Program To Hold Open Season

Open season for federal workers and retirees in the federal employees health benefits program will be May 3-28, according to civilian personnel officials.

During this period, employees and annuitants will have the opportunity to change from one health plan or option to another, or move from a self-only enrollment status to a family status. Employees not presently enrolled in the FEHB program also may enroll at this time.

The decision to hold an open season in the FEHB program was made following Office of Personnel Management administrative hearings in February, officials said.

OPM had postponed the open season, originally set for November, citing pending litigation that made final benefit and premium levels uncertain; the unavailability of informational literature on benefits and premiums, that could not be printed until the court suits were resolved.

ACS Lunch May 12

The Association of Aerospace Charting Seniors (ACS) will hold their bi-monthly meeting Wednesday, May 12 at Grant's Cabin on Watson Road. Lunch will begin with a cash bar at 11:30 a.m. followed by lunch at 12:30 p.m.

If you are not presently a member of ACS, please come to this luncheon and meet some of your old friends and co-workers. ACS welcomes all retirees and if you would like to join this club, Mr. Phil Rahall will furnish all particulars.

Luncheon entrees include swiss steak and veal parmigian. Price is $5.50 per person.

Checks should be sent by May 8 to Aerospace Charting Seniors, P.O. Box 8823, St. Louis, Missouri 63102. Specify choice of entree with check.

For additional information contact Gloria Powers at 351-8788.

Wait 10 Weeks

Taxpayers filing their 1981 federal income tax returns and claiming a refund should wait at least 10 weeks to contact the Internal Revenue Service about their refund, the IRS says.

Generally, taxpayers who file returns early in the year may receive refunds in less than 10 weeks, unless their return was incorrect in some manner, according to the IRS.

Those taxpayers filing returns after April 1 should wait until after June 15 to contact the IRS about a refund.

In addition to the nine who earned the Safe Driver Award, two individuals earned a Safe Driver Certificate. William J. Hufnagel, Scott Air Force Base courier assigned to the Directorate of Logistics, received the certificate for 12,000 miles of driving during the past two years without an accident or moving violation. Virgil Johnson, mobile distribution service truck driver assigned to the Directorate of Administration, received the certificate for 20,000 miles of driving during the past 30 months without an accident or moving violation.

Rahall was cited by the Aerospace Center for his distinguished service from July servance in June the DOD forces. Rahall resides in St. Louis and is active in the Aerospace Charting Seniors organization.

DMA Decennial Mementos on Sale

Five special mementos have been produced for sale in recognition of the Defense Mapping Agency Decennial Celebration scheduled for June of this year.

These items, which are available for purchase by Center employees, include a coffee mug, chrome pen, marble paper weight, dignitary key tag and Delta pen set. All items feature the DMA seal and where appropriate the decennial dates from 1972 to 1982.

The items were selected by the DMA Decennial Committee at the headquarters and are being offered at cost to employees. The coffee mug and chrome pen are $6.00 each. The marble paper weight is priced at $5.00 with the dignitary key tag at $2.50. The Delta pen set is $12.00.

The items can be viewed in the showcase, 1st Floor hallway Building 36, or through photographs in this edition and color photographs posted on bulletin boards near the Dining Hall at South Annex and the director's office at the Kansas City Office. Orders may be placed by using the order form contained in this issue. Individuals should assure that their name, office symbol and telephone extension are clearly printed on the order form. Proper payment should be attached with checks made payable to Paul G. Adams. Approximately six to eight weeks will be required for delivery.

Sale of items will terminate April 30.

Individuals will be notified when the merchandise is delivered to the Center as to time and place of pickup. Retirees desiring to purchase mementos will be required to pickup the items at the Center. No items will be mailed.

New Space Motor

The first of three tests of a "new generation" space motor called IPSM-II has proved it can hurl satellites and other payloads deeper into space. The tests proved the IPSM-II can generate 27,000 pounds of thrust and should permit a payload weight increase of up to 40 percent.

Mementos being offered for sale as part of the DMA 10th Anniversary observance include a coffee mug with DMA seal for $6.00, a desk set with pen (center foreground) for $12.00, a chrome ball point pen with seal (right foreground) priced at $6.00, a dignitary key tag with seal (center background) for $2.50, and a marble paper weight with seal for $5.00. Order blank is contained on page 2. Additional order blanks are available in the Public Affairs Office.

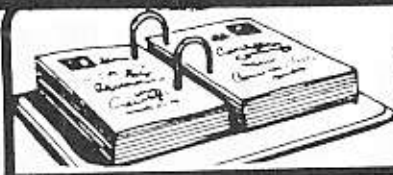

LOOKING BACK

TEN YEARS AGO . . . The Aeronautical Chart & Information Center's NASA Project Office was represented at the launching of Apollo 16 from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Lawrence Schirmerman witnessed the launch as a guest of NASA . . . "Finding Your Way Outdoors" by ACICer Robert Mooers is the April selection of the Outdoor Life Magazine book-of-the-month club. The book, published by E.P. Dutton Co., describes the use of the three basic types of compass with special chapters on map reading and the use of aerial photos by sportsmen. Illustrations were drawn by another ACICer, George Killion . . . The following item appeared in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat "Through the Years" column: "100 Years Ago Friday, March 29, 1872—A longstanding stumbling block to St. Louis expansion was removed by the Army, which donated a section of the arsenal grounds to the city for a public park." (Orientor, April 21, 1972)

TWENTY YEARS AGO . . . The editorial "More Help on the Way," which appeared in the March 23 Orientor, stated that additional personnel have been authorized for the Aeronautical Chart & Information Center, effective July 1. Valuable help in recruiting cartographers—the skill category designated for most of the new positions—could be provided by our present "family" of em-

Interesting scenes taken during the Eclipse Expedition on which John Wren, Carto, and George Bandemar, Photo, represented the Aeronautical Chart Plant are being shown in St. Louis this month. The Fox Movietone, titled "Eclipse of the Sun Filmed in Africa," will show for the last time in St. Louis at the Melvin Theater this evening, April 4 . . . The Cartography Creed contest was won by Edward Bronczyk with the following: "Whether responsibility be great or small, the excellence with which we perform our job shall erase the shadows of doubt from the minds of our beneficiaries." Close behind was Charles Juengel with: "To compile accurately; to edit wisely; to draft precisely; each sharing the responsibility to work with dispatch, no one to neglect pertinent matter. Take a Walk!

Walking is an idea whose time has come. It's safe. It's easy. It makes us look and feel great. Every moving part moves naturally, the way nature intended it to. Muscles stretch and turn and knead with every step you take, revving up circulation and helping your heart pump blood. A program of daily walking can change your level of fitness to that of an individual 10 to 20 years younger.

acquaintances, who are, or might know of, well-qualified potential applicants, are suggested . . . Employee Raymond Kramme not only completed ECI extension course Intelligence Operations Specialist in his off-duty hours, but did most of the course while riding to and from ACIC with his car pool. The 195-hour three-volume course covered the intelligence cycle, air

March 26, a new name was selected from several which had been entered in a contest. The new name is the ARSENAL Credit Union, suggested by Mr. Charles Morgan, Repro. This name is especially appropriate in that it helps to designate the location as well as to perpetuate the history of one of St. Louis' most significant shrines. (Orientor, April 1982)

MSgt. Lorence Arrives from Scott AFB

Master Sgt. Joseph R. Lorence, USAF, arrived for duty April 5 from Scott AFB, Ill. He has been assigned to the Directorate of Logistics as a contract superintendent.

Sergeant Lorence is a graduate of Edison High School in Minneapolis, Minn. and holds an associate's degree in procurement from the Community College of the Air Force.

Trained To Teach

Walking is one exercise that does everything. It is a dandy way to shed weight. It is an escape—You can walk to think, or walk not to think. It can work as both a stimulant and a tranquilizer. Brisk walking improves circulation to the brain, increasing mental alertness. At the same time, walking can iron away anger and tension.

It is generally concluded that walking is the safest, most efficient form of exercise for all ages since it can be done at any time, anywhere and into very old age. And you don't need any equipment except a pair of good shoes.

Walk with head erect, back straight, abdomen flat, feet parallel and pointing forward. When walking, make sure your whole foot is placed on the ground—heel first, then toes. It's the only correct way, and it's like having wings on your feet. Joyous, effortless, self-locomotion!

The next time someone tells you to "take a walk"—thank him!

"SPRING FORWARD — FALL BACK" is a way to remember which way to set the clock for daylight saving time. Set clocks forward one hour Sunday, April 25, at 2 a.m. Or, if waiting for the "magic hour" is not practical, adjust the clock before retiring Saturday night. The lost hour of sleep will be recovered Oct. 31, at 2 a.m. when clocks are set back one hour. Of course, that also means an extra 60 minutes of ghosts, ghouls, goblins and haunting that night — the 31st is Halloween, too.

ORGANIZATIONS AT THE AEROSPACE CENTER

'Input' a Priority of BAG

Not formally affiliated with any national organization, the Black Awareness Group (BAG) grew out of the concerns of a dozen or so Black employees at the Aerospace Center some 10 years ago.

According to Emmett Burton, current president and a founding member of the organization, this nucleus of individuals that became BAG was "concerned about the absence of Blacks in management positions."

"The EEO program was then in its infancy," Burton remarked, "so one of our first steps was to meet with the regional director of the Civil Service Commission to determine what members could do in terms of having input."

The group also met with the director of the Aerospace Center and requested sanction as an organization.

"We felt as a sanctioned organization, we could have more input; it would give us a direct line," Burton explained. "All directors since that time have recognized BAG as a DMAAC-sanctioned organization."

The goals of BAG are stated in its constitution and summarized as follows:

--to seek equitable and just treatment for all employees,

--to encourage enforcement of equal employment and human rights laws,

--to direct aggrieved individuals to proper channels,

--to facilitate communication between Blacks and other ethnic groups,

--to serve the unique needs of Black employees,

--to promote harmony and understanding among all employees.

Current activities of BAG include the review of affirmative action policies, providing whatever input the group feels is necessary. Policies with an adverse impact on equal employment are brought to the attention of the Equal Opportunity manager. BAG also maintains a grievance committee, open to nonmembers as well as members.

In recent years, ethnic recognition activities have become an important part of BAG's program, Burton said. Last year the group had an informational

Softball Season To Open May 5th in Lyon Park

The DMAAC softball season will open Wednesday, May 5, in Lyon Park with 24 of the 32 men and women's teams scheduled to compete. For the convenience of employees, the Sports and Recreation Council has arranged for all games this year to be played at Lyon Park. Games will be played on Wednesday and Thursday beginning at 3:45 p.m.

New lights were recently installed by the city on both diamonds, enabling nighttime play on Wednesday until approximately 10:15. Thursday games will normally conclude around 6 p.m.

The season will end in August with a double-elimination tournament for the women. The bottom 18 men's teams will hold a single-elimination consolation tournament, and the top two teams from that tournament will compete with the top six teams during regular-season play in a double-elimination tournament.

In another change, both the men and women's leagues have joined the Metro St. Louis Amateur Softball Association, sponsored by the city's Department of Parks, Recreation and Forestry.

Teams and their managers are listed as follows:

Scoring Champions

Pat Hudson of Charlie's Angels is winner of the 1981-82 DMAAC Women's Basketball League scoring championship. Pat averaged 14 points per game and was named Most Valuable Player for the Women's Basketball League.

Robert Bradley of the Fastbreaks won the 1981-82 DMAAC Men's Basketball League scoring championship with an average of 18 points per game. He was named the Most Valuable Player for the Men's Basketball League.

All-Star Players Battle Till End

The Women and Men's All-Star basketball games sponsored by the DMAAC Sports and Recreation Council resulted in two excellent and exciting basketball games. In the women's game, the Red team coached by Eddie Grider defeated the Blue team, 18-16. Beverly Boykins paced the Red team with 7 points while teammates Michele Schneeberger scored 4 points, Nancy Clark, 3 points and Marian Weickert and Nannie Bennett 2 points teammates Cathy Hatfield, Wendy Hempel and Chris Everding scored 2 points each. Other Blue All-Star team members were Kay Berndt, Claire Block, Tammy Iverson, Terri Kramer, Judy David and Kim Ozburn.

In the men's game, it took an overtime for the Blue All-Star team coached by Eddie Grider to emerge as a 53-50 winner. Jeff Siudzinski paced a balanced Blue team attack with 11 points

Fastbreaks Keep Title

The Fastbreaks repeat as the 1982 DMAAC Men's Basketball Champions. After a 1st round bye, the Fastbreaks defeated the Rookies, 48-45, Gildersleeves, 55-28 and Thurmers, 69-48.
